shape, calculations be made and arrangements entered into with more spirit, more confidence, and we shall have more data to go upon.

The steamship Ganada, from Liverpool, has been out tweive days, and is over due at Halifax. We look for telegraphic advices every moment. She will bring three days' later intelligence, which wil', doubtless, be of great importance. We cannot expect much activity in any of our markets until it is known that political affairs in Europe have settled down upon a tetter basis. Our export trade will be limited until private advices confirm the last public accounts. It will not interfere much with our importations; but, on the contrary, may hasten them along, and make them larger than they otherwise would having been subscribed toward the Air Line Rail Road, it is now settled that the direct railway line from New York to Boston will be built. The sum of one million only York to Boston will be built. The sum of one million only was wanted to commence operations, and there having been something over that amount subscribed, leaves the matter without any doubt. The towns in the State of Connecticut through which the route is to pass, have subscribed very liberally. Middletown, the point at which the road will crose the Connecticut River, subscribed some $30:000; Burham, $30,000; Portland, $35,000, and others in proportion. It is proposed to keep the subscription books open for some $200,000 more, making in all $1,250,000. It is thought that about $3,000,000, will be necessary to carry out the project in full, and it must be conceded that the result so far is auspicious of success. The towns through which this line auspicious of success. The towns through which this line will pass in Massachusetts, will give a handsome subscrip-tion, especially Dorchester and Brookline, and doubtless a very large sum will be secured from Boston, New York, very large sum will be secured from Boston, New York, and New Haven, each, whenever the occasion may require it. The details of the pian are full of successful elements. The depot at Boston is to be at the foot of Pearl street, at tide water—one of the best distributing points for passengers or freight in Boston—and the interface from Boston through Dorchester and other towns contiguous, will be very large and remunerative. The whole line from Boston to New Haven will be under one management, which will facilitate and simplify the running details very materially. If the line is built with any degree of economy, and arranged with discretion, we can have no doubt but that it will eventually prove one of the most profitable investments in the country. Direct lines of railway between two great commercial and trading points cannet but pay well, and in this particular the Air line has an advantage over every kind of rivairy.

Total.....$9,647,268 14 $4,807,464 37 The first class embraces all consolidated funds, funded debt, treasury bonds, and audited paper, including the claims for naval vessels, loan from United States

The second class embraces claims not audited, but

The third class embraces claims not provided for by law, though many of them are highly meritorious Among them are many claims for losses sustained during the war, from the appropriation or destruction of property by our own army, or that of the enemy. The Legislature has already given a pretty strong indication of a determination not to onen the foor to claims of this of a determination not to open the door to claims of this character.

The Board state that they have audited the claims of those who performed military service, where the needful evidence was on file, regardless of any application of the claimants, helding the certificate subject to his order, or that of his legal representatives. They say, that as many of these parties are now deceased, the proceeds of these claims should inure to the benefit of their heirs; and therefore recommend the enactment of the necessary law to protect the rights of the widows and orphaus of those who may have fallen in the defence of the country, by prescribing the necessary regulations to prevent persons from administering for the purposes of speculation.

The Committee on the Public Debt, in the Legislature, have reported a bill to authorize the Comptroller to proceed to Washington to receive the first five million of bonds from the United States, and to sell one million of the same if he shall think proper, and also to receive the interest due Texas from the United States; also, a bill appropriating the proceeds of the bonds sold for the liquidation and payment of that portion of the debt of the later republic of Texas for which the import revenues of Texas were not specially pledged, under the decision of the President of the United States, amounting to $188,588.

the action of the Auditor and Comptroller, under the provisions of an act of the Legislature of the State of Texas, providing for ascertaining the debt of the late republic of Texas, approved March 20th, 1848, and the act supplementary thereto, approved February 5th, 1848, and declaring that the value assigned to each class of Hab lities, by said officers, in their report aforesaid, to the state of Texas recognizes and the lities, by said officers, in their report aforesaid, to what the State of Texas recognises as due to the re-spective claimants, and no more.

The whole estensible or face value of all the claims filed according to law, is $9,647,253 14, of which the par value is $4,807,764 37; and the whole amount not filed-$2,789,738 20, worth $2,019,814 27—making the total orensible debt $12,436,991 34, or $6,827,278 64 par. This

Kossuth and His Reception—"Stop my Paper" till the Excilement Subsides.

I have noticed for some time, with feelings of disgust, the flattering editorials and distorted and sympathetic accounts of the arrival and glorious reception of M. Kossuth, on this continent; and permit me to say to yeu, as an humble patron of your paper, that I am perfectly disgusted at the mention of Kossuth's name, and I take this opportunity to request you te discontinue my paper until the excitement incident to M. Kossuth's arrival shall have subsided, as I am unwilling to see his name in any paper to which I am a subscriber.

I believe that I express the sentiments of a majority of the citizens of this State, when I inform you that it is my opinion that the principles entertained by Kossuth and his companions in exale, are too nearly allied with red republicanism to offer any allurements to an American citizens. Fanatics and trading politicians may here find an opportunity to promulgate their enthusiastic sentiments, and render themselves conspicuous by being the first to welcome a foreign despot and bigot to our shores; but to those engaged in other pursuits than that of nurturing the viper that may eventually prove the destroyer of our prosperity and happiness, the circumstance affords nothing interesting or instructive; and we would most respectfully dissent from a participation in acts so disgraceful to Americans; and we are unwilling to offer encouragement to any establishment engaged in the diffusion of sentiments so derogatory to our character as Americans and expounders of liberty.

Politics in South Carolina—The Legislature, &c.
In making my annual visit to the South this winter, I have spent a few days in this place, during the session of the Legislature. It is amazing to see how accurately you have understood South Ca rolina politics, which are not like politics any where else. In fact, the HERALD is the only paper which has ever fairly reflected the public opinion of all parts of our mighty country, without any at-tempt at distortion.

The policy of South Carolina is undergoing a-gradual but certain change. She is no longer going to remain a mere sullen spectator of matters of general interest to the country. It is true she going to remain a mere sullen spectator of matters of general interest to the country. It is true she has lost confidence in the Union, and it may take a long time for her to regain it; but it is very certain her people have come to the conclusion that while she is in the Union, she must perform her duties to it. The co-operation men have the people on their side, although the secessionists hold the government. But this will be changed at the elections next summer. The secessionist have not yet abandoned their wild notions, and will make desperate efforts to retain power. It will be in vain. The people are with the other party, who, in addition, have the talent of the State almost exclusively on their side. I was struck with the fact that in the House, every man who impressed me at all in debate, was opposed to secession.

Since I have been here I could have sent you some sketches of debates, but they have been only of local interest. The State House is a rickety sort of patched up affair; but they are going to build a new and handsome one. The Representative Hall is large and well lit, but is spoiled by the Speaker's desk, which is made after the model of Florence's bar, but without its olegance, for it is not of marble, but of wood, painted white. It would be better in an oyster house than a legislative hall. The Speaker, Mr. James Simmons, is a stout old gentleman, with a shining bald head and benevolent countenance. The President of the Senate is the model of a presiding officer. His name is Robert Alston, and he has served a long time in the body over which he presides. Both in ferm and substance he is admirable. His manner is truly gentlemanly and dignified, and he has great despatch of business. Owing to his rapidity and accuracy, the Senate is always ahead of the House, which lags sadly in its business—very often from too much formality.

I have been very much pleased with the people about here: They are a fine set of fellows—social and high-spirited. They are wrong headed in polities; but I must say th

Our election.

Our elections are drawing very near a close, and this past week has opened the eyes of three of the leading reformers to their true appreciation in so-ciety. All the prestige of their former great name and their high standing in the reform ranks, has been of no avail, and they have leader in the great anti-clergy reserve movementthe most prim, smooth faced member of the last House—has been beaten by a sort of nondescript or mongrel tory. Mr. Baldwin, the late Attorney General, the ablest, most cunning, most Jesuitical, most simpering-faced, and most undefinable leader of the reform party, has been beaten by a farmer, who does a little pettifogging business now and again, just to keep his hand in use. Baldwin, who was looked to as the main stay of the reformers of Upper Canada, has been ousted from his constitu-ency by a reformer, and thus has suffered an ig-nominious defeat. Mr. Morrison, one of the partners of a leading law firm in town, has been rejected by his old constituency. Merrison, who took the lead in all the reform movements of the last session of Parliament—who brought in the bill to abolish the Rectory patents, who headed the opposition on the Sectarian School clause, whe suffered a defeat on his marriage bill, and many such consonant ideas—has been most unceremeniously rejected, to make room for a reformer who may not be so loopy. The fact is, right or wrong, Upper Canada has become exceedingly tired of lawyer representation. They feel that they have been willing alsave too long, and seem determined to get rid of so uncerupulous a class. At a time when lawyers monopolized considerably more than their share of the talking qualifications of the province, they came off victorious at all elections; but comehow, our merchants and farmers are becoming possessed of so considerable a share of volubility as to enable them to balle the lawyers with their own weapons, and all their backeliding and temporizing policy having been thrown into the scale against them, the lawyers of this generation have suffered a defeat. Sherwood, who was outsted from Toronto, is a lawyer; Baldwin is a lawyer; Price is a lawyer; Morrison is a lawyer; and Sherwood, of Brockville, and Cayley, of Huron, both rejected, all lawyers; and Notman, a consistent reformer, custed by Middlesex, is a lawyer; and several others of the same stamp—all have been defeated Wilson, who represented London, an eminent lawyer, has been beaten by a merchant hatter of that town; so that it would seem the lawyers, as politicians, are at a considerable discount. One thing is very evident—that instead of trying to simplify the laws, in order to make them intelligible to the mase of the people, they have gone on, year after year, piling up fresh additions to the statute book, so that already, in our young country, instead of being able to master all the laws by which we should be governed, it would be a herculcan task to become acquainted even with their titles. Such a work is evidently the merest bosh jected by his old constituency. Merrison, who took the lead in all the reform movements of the last session of Parliament-who brought in the bill
